

Our testimonial to John Gaedert, President of The County Journal

John, I just wanted to pass along some good news to you. As recently as last week, we placed articles and advertising in your publication and in the other publication in town. These were in regards to some upcoming computer classes that we are going to be offering at our Wednesday evening Family Activity night.

This is what I really wanted to pass along; we currently have between 30 and 40 people that have registered and, by far, the majority, if not most of them, are the result of the response from The County Journal. This was reported to me by our person taking the reservations. In fact, they have tracked only a couple of them from the other paper.

So it appears as though people are reading papers, at least the ones taking computer classes, and it is your paper they are reading the most. I thought passing this good news along would help as you are just getting started with your new paper.

I also appreciate so much, your help with our current project. You can be sure you'll be hearing from us regarding future projects.

Joe Whitaker,
Representing Seventh-Day Adventist Church
Charlotte, MI

